TRANSPORTATION

You are responsible for your camper's transportation to and from camp. A map is enclosed.

If you are not picking up your own child, please make sure the transporting adult's name is on the camper release form.

A LOUSY NOTE FROM THE CAMP NURSE

Head lice has reached epidemic proportions in the schools and in our communities. In order to protect our campers, Oregon Camp Cedarbrook staff will be conducting head inspections for all incoming campers during the check-in process. We will be unable to register any camper on whom we find any sign of head lice, including egg cases (nits).

Please, please, please inspect your child's head at least one week before camp starts. If you discover any sign of head lice, this will give you time to treat and de-lice your child, and will save them the embarrassment and disappointment of not being admitted to camp.

Look primarily at the base of the neck along the hairline and around the ears for nits. Eggs are usually shiny white; it is very unusual to see the lice themselves, which are tiny and black. If you do find positive signs, call your pediatrician about treatment for head lice.

THANK YOU for your help! We want every camper to have a safe, healthy time at Oregon Camp Cedarbrook this summer.

See you soon,
Laura "Goldie" Filipenko
